Who Should Pay for Education?

A WELL-TO-DO Alumnus of one of our Eastern universities, who recently declined to contribute to the Endowment Fund of his Alma Mater, expressed his reasons substantially as follows:

"Why should I pay for educating the children of other people? I am willing to pay for my own. If the college tuition fees are not high enough to cover the cost they should be raised, and I will gladly pay the extra expense. Every one who can afford to should be asked to do the same. Deserving students who cannot afford the entire cost can be taken care of by scholarships."

The attitude of this man is fortunately not that of the great majority of college graduates, but the solution he proposes for the financial problem of the universities is receiving more or less discussion just now.

Those who hold the view that parents should bear the entire responsibility of educating future generations probably do not realize that it is merely a reversion to an ancient view. Not so many years ago education in general—even that of the primary and secondary schools—was paid for by the parents. The condition changed only when the fact became recognized that lack of education handicapped not merely the individual but the whole community. The responsibility for education was therefore brought home to the community.

In democratic America we have managed to avoid the evil of separating students into a paying group and a charity group. Scholarships have been provided, but not of a kind to destroy the self-respect of those whom they partially maintain. In most instances they have been accompanied by an obligation, expressed or implied, upon the individual beneficiary to repay the tuition loan, either in present service or in cash payment after the student has graduated and entered active life.

Personally, I should never consent to any division of New York University students into classes based upon the wealth of their parents. I should regard it as dangerously subversive of the democratic character our student body has always manifested.

Furthermore, I do not believe the community can escape a moral responsibility for securing the financial stability, the proper equipment and the generous enlargement of the institutions in which the new generation of men is to find its educational opportunity.

SEX OF UNBORN CHILD MAY BE SHOWN BY X-RAY

NEW HAVEN, Dec. 29.—It is possible to determine the sex of the unborn infant by observation of the stage of development of its bones, said Dr. J. W. Pryor of the University of Kentucky, in a lecture before the American Association of Anatomists at the annual meeting here today.

Dr. Pryor explained that due to the fact that the bones of the female develop quicker than those of the male it is possible by use of the X-ray to examine the unborn child, taking special notice of certain bones in the palm of the hand and in the lower extremities.

Dr. Pryor said no one had yet made a practical study of the subject, but his own observation revealed a difference between the sexes as early as ten weeks before birth.

DEBS NOT TO ATTEND RAND SCHOOL BALL

Too Exhausted to Come to New York for Event in His Honor January 1.

SOCIALIST LEADERS CALL Plans for National Tour Are Announced at Party Headquarters—No Date Set.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE NEW YORK HERALD.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Dec. 29.—Eugene V. Debs said to-night that he would not be able to go to New York on January 1 to attend the ball which is to be given in his honor by the Rand School of Social Science. He received the invitation when it first became known that he was to be released from the Federal prison in Atlanta, but the activities of the last few days have been so strenuous that he is exhausted and must rest.

"I have no definite plans for the future," Debs said, "so far as political aspirations are concerned. It is true that I intend to try to carry out my plan of freeing prisoners who are now behind the bars for no more reason than I was. But this will take time. First I must rest and get back into the rut. The last few days have been trying so much so that I cannot tell now when I shall again take up active work. First I must get my tangled affairs straightened out; then I shall be able to tell more of the future."

The home of Debs in 451 North Eighth street had many visitors to-day, but there were no demonstrations. Most of the visitors were old friends or Socialist leaders came for conferences with the acknowledged leader of their party.

Debs seemed tired and worn out and spent most of the afternoon lying on a couch in his living room. Stacks of letters and telegrams, estimated to number more than 5,000, were piled high on his desk and table, some of them unopened. Debs probably will not be able to do anything with the letters and telegrams in earnest for several days, but he hopes eventually to answer every one.

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—Eugene V. Debs will make a national tour under auspices of the Socialist party, it was announced to-day at National Socialist headquarters here by O. C. Wilson, State secretary for Illinois. Mr. Wilson said that members of the party's national executive committee expected to meet Mr. Debs in a few days to work out details of his future work with the party and to arrange plans for the tour, the date of which has not yet been set.

BURCH QUITS GRINNING AS ALIENISTS TESTIFY

They Say He Suffers From Too Much Ego.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29.—Arthur C. Burch, on trial for the alleged murder of J. Belmont Kennedy, changed his demeanor so much to-day while alienists were testifying about his mental condition that it was brought into the court record and a bailiff kept close to his side during most of the proceedings. Three Los Angeles specialists in mental disorders testified they believed the defendant was suffering from mental deterioration, which took the form of egotism, flippancy and conceit.

While the state of the being being Burch, who had smiled almost continuously during the previous sessions, grew attentive and grave, biting his lips and swaying to and fro. Dr. J. H. Woodhouse, who asked the doctors if they had noticed "how serious Burch has become to-day."

"Yes," replied the alienists, "we have been tramping upon his ego."

MAJOR SAYS INNOCENT NEGRO WAS HANGED

He Vainly Appealed to President Wilson in Paris.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE NEW YORK HERALD.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 29.—John S. Cannon, formerly a Major attached to General Heintzelman in France and now lawyer in this city, said to-day an innocent negro soldier was hanged. The negro, who served with a pioneer regiment, according to Mr. Cannon, was charged with an attack on a French girl.

Mr. Cannon has written a letter to Senator Watson of Georgia telling all he knows of the case. He said he did not remember the negro's name. The blamed Lieut.-Col. Emil Engel, president of the court martial which convicted the negro, for the hanging. Cannon said he went to Paris and saw President Wilson on behalf of the convicted man, but to no avail. Cannon added he was a member of the court martial.

'FOR MEN ONLY' SHOWS CONDEMNED BY WOMAN

Purity League Censors Traveling Carnivals.

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—Traveling carnivals were condemned as the means of spreading gambling and vice throughout the small town and legalized immorality "carried under the protection of the marriage vow" was denounced in the final sessions of the International Purity Conference here today.

Sensational "for men only" shows were attacked by Miss Mary Rogers of Philadelphia, who said that they were patronized by "curious" thoughtless men and boys who cannot stand the taunt of the Barker that they are mollified.

Dr. Royal S. Copeland, Health Commissioner, issued a warning against "doubtful liquor," stating that there are no more home brewed liquors and distillations being consumed at the present time that I will not be surprised if there are more deaths from this cause. No matter how keen the appetite may be, he demands that it must be restrained.

In a room at the Hotel Cumberland, Broadway and Fifty-fourth street, the body of George C. Henry, a traveling salesman whose headquarters in Brooklyn, Mass., was found yesterday afternoon stretched across the bed. Dr. George Hohnmann, Medical Examiner, after an inspection, ordered the body sent to the morgue for a wood for alcohol test. Together with some of the liquor found in the room.

Yesterday morning, it was learned, Henry received a call from L. G. Rix, a friend, who lives in Freeport. Rix went to the hotel to ask Henry to take lunch with him. He found his friend in bed. Henry said he wasn't feeling very well—that he had had a wild little time the night before. He pointed to two bottles on a table beside the bed. One was labelled gin, the other whiskey. The bottles had a quart each. The gin was three-quarters gone, the whiskey bottle was nearly full. When the body was found in the afternoon they had been emptied further.

DAUGHERTY TO USE PRICE TAUST AGAINST PROFITERS

Will Publish Production Costs of Necessities in Comparison With What Retailer Charges the Householder—Attorneys-General in All States to Aid.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Aid of Attorneys-General of the various States will be relied on by the Justice Department in an effort to readjust retail prices of the necessities of life, Attorney-General Daugherty said to-day.

Mr. Daugherty said he expected to publish a table of most of the necessities—food, fuel, shoes and clothing—to the consumer in different localities as compared with the production costs of these commodities in order to bring to the attention of the public any wide margin between these costs found to exist. Publication of retail prices as found by the Department was expected by Mr. Daugherty to have a salutary effect on profiteering prices. Numerous cases of violations of State laws have been reported, he said, but Federal prosecution would depend upon the action of anti-trust laws. The Government, Mr. Daugherty said, wishes merchants to make a fair profit but was steadfastly opposed to enormous or unreasonable profits. Increase in the price of bread in the District of Columbia by one cent last week when the price of flour was lower than it had been in years was cited by the Attorney-General as an instance of high prices which would be given attention by the Department.

Additional Federal indictments against persons engaged in the building material industry in different parts of the country are expected by the Justice Department, the Attorney-General said.

ALBANY, Dec. 29.—New York State can count on to do everything in its power to prevent profiteering in extortionate price fixing and to promote law enforcement, Attorney-General Charles D. Newton declared to-day in discussing the proposal of Attorney-General Daugherty for a nationwide campaign against law breakers.

REGISTERED MAIL TAPPING NETS RUM

cases of whisky, and with actually having delivered ten cases, were arrested yesterday. They are Frederick Rex, head of the Rex Importing and Exporting Company, 15 Whitehall street, and Svend Wedell-Petersen. Both live at 4 East 108th street. They were arraigned before Judge Mack in the Federal District Court, and held in $2,500 bail each. The prisoners were indicted six weeks ago on a charge of conspiracy to violate the Volstead act.

A $50,000 seizure of whisky, cognac, champagne and port was reported in two raids made with search warrants upon two hotels in Hoboken. The $50,000 seizure was made at the Grand Hotel, at Third and Hudson streets, of which Charles Reinking is proprietor. A bartender who was showing the agents the cellar, disappeared during the search. In a sub-cellar the agents say they found fifty barrels of real beer.

At Meyer's Hotel, across the street, about $1,000 worth of whisky was seized. Reinking and Henry Braun, the proprietor of Meyer's Hotel, are to appear before the United States Commissioner in Hoboken this morning.

Green Miller, general agent, who is right hand man to E. C. Yellowlow, the chief general agent in charge of the New York office, pleaded not guilty to the charges yesterday to an indictment charging atrocious assault and battery with intent to kill in the shooting of James McFarland in West Orange street. He was charged with the shooting of William Stanton at the same time.

Assistant Prosecutor Mott said he was not ready to plead Mott on the charge of assault because Stanton is not yet out of danger. The two men were shot by Miller after a raid on a grocery store in West Orange, in which Miller and several other agents had seized a case of gin. The agents were rushed by a crowd as they were about to board a car.

Miller was released in $5,000 bail, furnished by a surety company. The date of his trial was set for January 23. At the time of the shooting Miller was in temporary charge of the Newark enforcement office. His life was repeatedly threatened.

Prohibition Agents Barry and Mannix fixed themselves up last night to look like who they described as "gentlemen attending the conference on the limitation of armament," and in their disguise visited a cafe at Park avenue and Fifty-third street, where, they said, they bought two drinks of whisky for 75 cents each. Thomas Ellison, the bartender, of 588 Sixth avenue, was taken to the East Fifty-first street station. Summonses were left for the two proprietors of the cafe.

NINE DEATHS CHARGED TO WOOD ALCOHOL

Salesman From Bay State and a Woman New Victims.

Eight more poisoning cases, three of them resulting in death, for which the drinking of liquor containing wood alcohol is believed to have been responsible, were reported to-day by the health department. The total of fatalities attributed to this cause which have occurred since Christmas Day is now nine. The latest death reported was that of Carrie M. McKel, 55, 246 East Thirty-fifth street, who died while being taken to Bellevue Hospital after she had been found unconscious in front of 13 East Thirty-fifth street. She had been missing from home several days.

Dr. Royal S. Copeland, Health Commissioner, issued a warning against "doubtful liquor," stating that there are no more home brewed liquors and distillations being consumed at the present time that I will not be surprised if there are more deaths from this cause. No matter how keen the appetite may be, he demands that it must be restrained.

The other dead was that of Charles Williams, a negro, of 17 Minetta street. Williams called at the home of a friend a few doors away, on Wednesday, and while there fell into a stupor. When it was seen he could not be roused his wife called. She said he was a heavy sleeper, and was "probably full of gin." He stayed there over night and was found dead in bed yesterday morning.

Mrs. Jane Prose of 628 Taylor avenue, William McElroy, a sailor, of 463 West Twenty-third street, and two unidentified men were found in the street, were taken to various hospitals suffering from alcoholic poisoning.

John Dooley, 14 years old, of 222 Sixth street, was taken from his home to Bellevue Hospital last night by Dr. Baldwin of New York Hospital. The physician said the boy was suffering from alcohol poisoning and was in a serious condition. The police say he found some liquor near his home yesterday afternoon and became ill soon after drinking it.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Purchase at an estimated cost of $111,000 of several tracts of land in Europe for permanent American cemeteries was recommended to-day by Secretary Weeks in a letter to the President. Secretary Weeks estimated the bodies of 22,000 Americans who died overseas would not be returned to the United States.

EARTH'S AXES SHIFT, CHANGING LATITUDE

Movement Northward of Our Planet at Foot a Year Is Detected.

SWARTHMORE, Pa., Dec. 29 (Associated Press).—Contributions to the mass of astronomical research, representing investigations of a year by scientists throughout the United States, were presented to-day to members of the American Astronomical Society at their yearly meeting in Sprout Observatory at Swarthmore College.

Papers read had to do mostly with methods of observation work and means of eliminating or at least discovering errors that constantly hinder advancement of the science.

W. S. Elschelberger, director of the Naval Observatory in Washington, D. C., with the aid of a series of lantern slides presented figures giving deductions from almost hourly observations and clock corrections for the last two decades.

Great interest was shown by the sixty members of the society attending the meeting in the paper read by Walter D. Lambert, mathematician of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, and attached to the Ukiah Observatory, California.

Latitude Change Noted.

His discussion related to earth movements revealed, he declared, by observations at Ukiah that unmistakably indicate a change in latitude. The earth, he believes, is shifting toward the north. Computed in terms of time and space, the Ukiah Observatory has been moving north at the rate of a foot a year during the past two decades.

Interest was displayed by the astronomers as to the causes of this phenomenon. Whether it is a local movement of the crust of the earth or due to a shifting of the North Pole to the south, caused much speculation. Some believed the apparent movement of the earth northward was attributable to errors of observation in large part, but were ready to believe, whatever the cause and whatever the rate, that the axes of the earth may have shifted slightly, causing the changes in latitude.

Study of the movement of the poles showed, according to Mr. Lambert, that the earth does not always revolve perpendicularly on its axis, but that the end of a pole describes an ellipse, moving at times as much as sixty feet on its course.

Pole Not in Right Place.

Position of the North Pole, he declared, is determined by computing the center of the line between the highest and lowest points of the Polar Star. Sometimes, he explained, the pole is not there, and it was this shifting of position that held the greatest interest of the scientists to-day.

Red stars, their color revealing their extreme age, were discussed by Ralph E. Wilson of the Dudley Observatory, Albany, N. Y., who studied 154 of the "old fellows." Their rates of space velocity, he declared, are very slow.

By study of spectra about certain stars, Dr. Lowell Shapley, director of Harvard College Observatory, said he had discovered a new substance, which has been called "nebulium." The discovery, he added, was made through spectroscopy which showed a spectrum not known to exist on any other body. Stars, he explained, ordinarily are made up of the same substances that are known to exist on the earth. The study of "nebulium," he declared, opens new possibilities for the astronomer.

HIRSHFIELD WILL VIEW HAUNTS OF HISTORY

Plans Junket to Get Facts for Inquiry First Hand.

DAVID HIRSHFIELD, Commissioner of Accounts and investigator for the Hyman administration, is about ready to investigate the United States at first hand to get an "Americanized" history for the city schools.

He modestly admitted yesterday that his efforts easily might surpass in veracity some of the books he has seen lately. He said:

"I am 101 per cent. American and I think the people might do a whole lot worse than read a history compiled by me. Some of our histories are 10 per cent. American and 90 per cent. British."

Although the Commissioner's itinerary is a little vague, he intends to visit the haunts of the forefathers that are mentioned "allegorically" in the history books, and his journeys may take him at the expense of the city to Boston, Baltimore, Concord, Philadelphia and Washington.

The Boston tea party, Paul Revere's ride and Nathan Hale's sacrifice are some of the events which the Commissioner thinks have been distorted and which he is going to set right.

LEVY ON HAYWOOD REQUEST TO PAY FINE

Chicago District Attorney Announces Action.

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—Plans to collect the $10,000 fine imposed on William D. (Big Boy) Haywood, convicted with several scores of others of violation of the espionage act during the world war, have been completed and action will be begun at once, according to announcement of District Attorney Charles F. Clyne to-day. Haywood is in Russia.

Collection of the fine will be attempted from the bequest of Haywood's wife, who died recently, which left him her entire estate, valued at $60,000. Joseph Merensky, Assistant District Attorney, will go to Salt Lake City immediately, the District Attorney said, to start action.

LUSK SAYS HE WILL NOT QUIT.

Governor Will Not Interfere in Controversy Over Senator.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE NEW YORK HERALD.

Gov. Miller has adopted a hands off policy on the controversy over Senator Clayton R. Lusk. Some Republican legislators have expressed the opinion that Lusk should resign as a majority leader, because of the criticism following his acceptance of a silver service from members of the New York police force.

"I have not discussed the question with Senator Lusk or any one else and don't intend to," said the Governor to-day.

Senator Lusk said he had no intention of resigning.

ERRORS FREE SMALL FROM INDICTMENTS

Illinois Governor Now Faces Trial on Single Charge of Fraud Conspiracy.

WAUKEGAN, Ill., Dec. 29 (Associated Press).—Gov. Len Small to-day was freed of every charge against him except that of conspiring with Lieut.-Gov. Fred E. Sterling and Vernon Curtis to defraud the State of $2,000,000. All charges of embezzlement were stricken from the record.

The date of his trial on the one charge remaining is still uncertain. Judge Edwards, in his decision, ordered the Governor to trial January 9 on an indictment charging him with embezzlement of $200,000 during the last six months of his term as State Treasurer.

A missing word, the position of a name, three errors in drawing indictments and the shuffling of a pile of papers accounted for the victories won by the Governor.

The foreman of the Sangamon county Grand Jury signed his name in the wrong place on the back of an indictment charging Gov. Small, Lieut.-Gov. Sterling and Mr. Curtis jointly with embezzlement of $700,000. Judge Edwards quashed the indictment because of the foreman's error.

A typist left the word "feloniously" out of a count charging the trio with operating a confidence game. The charge was quashed.

The clerk of the Sangamon County Circuit Court, in affixing consecutive numbers to the indictments, happened to pick up the one charging Gov. Small with embezzling $500,000 first and gave it the first number. Therefore Judge Edwards ordered this case tried first and rather than comply the State dismissed the indictment.

KU KLUX KLANSMEN AT BIER OF SUICIDE

Pay Surprise Visit to Home of Baltimore Professor.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE NEW YORK HERALD.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 29.—A last tribute was paid by members of the Ku Klux Klan to Klansman Frank O. Anderson, professor of engineering at the Polytechnic Institute, who killed himself on Monday, when six of the members called at the home at midnight last night and four others attended the funeral this afternoon. On both occasions they wore the habiliments of the order, white gowns on which was the regulation red cross, and hoods concealing their features.

Those who called at the home came in automobiles. Kneeling beside the bier, they remained for probably a minute with heads bowed in silent prayer. Rising quickly, they each shook hands with the brother of the dead professor, and the leader of the group whispered a message of sympathy. He was the only one who spoke.

Members of Mr. Anderson's family did not know he was a member of the Klan and were not aware that klansmen would call until they appeared at the door.

ALIEN BILL TO BE CHANGED.

Three Year Measure Would Separate Many Families.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE NEW YORK HERALD.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—The bill proposed by Representative Johnson (Wash.) to restrict immigration for three years, admitting only to this country the parents, husbands and wives of immigrants already here, will be amended before it is submitted to the House for consideration, members of the Immigration Committee indicated to-day.

Considerable opposition has developed since many families would be separated indefinitely.
